

General Characteristics of the Honeywell Ductable Media F116 Air Purifier BigClean

This duct able VentDepot BigClean Honeywell F116 Series of Air Purifiers or stand-alone air cleaner is designed for tough air cleaning jobs in commercial and light industrial environments.

It has a Variety of filter combinations available; High Efficiency Particulate Air (HEPA) filter is 99.97% efficient and the hospital grade particle filter is 95% D.O.P. efficient at 0.3 micron particles. There is also a 95% ASHRAE filter.

Circulates up to 2600 cfm.

Designed to overcome the increase in air flow resistance normally caused by filter loading.

Negative and positive pressure rooms can be created with air cleaner. CPZ™ module removes up to 95% of the space odors for up to 24 months.

3-Speed remote wall switch.

F116 Series 2 Self-Contained Duct able Commercial Air Cleaners are available in two cabinet sizes:

Shorter cabinet: Uses one pre filter with one primary filter.

Longer cabinet: Uses one pre filter with two primary filters.

Shorter cabinet: Uses one pre filter with one primary filter.

Product Applications of the Honeywell Ductable Media F116 Air Purifier BigClean

The F116 Series 2 Self-Contained Ductable Commercial Air Cleaner is a media air cleaner that uses a three-speed direct drive forward curve blower/motor with a variety of filter combinations to remove airborne contaminants. The air cleaner is designed to provide its own air circulation. In addition it can accommodate ducting which can be attached to the intake and/or the outlet of the cabinet as the application requires.

The air cleaner is suitable for the collection of smoke, bacteria and viruses, gases, odors and volatile organic compounds (VOCs), fine saw dust, paper dust, brazing, normal atmospheric dusts such as pollens, allergens, dust mites and soot, and virtually any other reparable airborne contaminant. When equipped with CPZ™ modules, gases and odors are adsorbed from the air passing through the unit.
